Feedback requested on Sirius Institute project

See club website for PowerPoint presentation

The meeting of July 27 featured a presentation by Wayne Carmello-Harper of the Community Foundation and Dr. Steven Stout of JSU on the new Sirius Institute, a program designed to close the gap in school achievement that exists between students in the Anniston City Schools and students of other public school systems in Calhoun County.

The full PowerPoint presentation made at the meeting about this project is available on the Rotary website (www.annistonrotary.org).

Carmello-Harper and Stout have requested feedback from club members about the Sirius Institute. Contact information for both is available on the website.
